GENERAL NEWS.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Beginning to Break.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 9.—There is a light break from the Oliver men to various candidates, and from the democrats to Wolfe, but no choice of senator was made.

Oliver Withdraws.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 9.—Henry W. Oliver, Jr., republican caucus nominee for the United States senate, has formally withdrawn from the contest. Oliver in his letter to the republicans of the assembly, says that the senatorial contest has been so protracted that he must express his idea of the matter. It is an honorable ambition to represent Pennsylvania in the United States senate, and with that ambition he became a candidate and received the republican nomination and was entitled to every republican vote as the caucus nominee. Doubtless all his opponents in the party are actuated by conscientious motives and so far they have his entire respect, although he disapproves their course. Certainly there are many men in the state worthy the high honor, and recognizing that, owing to the refusal of a large and respectable number of republicans to join in the support of the caucus nominee, his election was impossible and he was no longer a candidate. He thanks his friends for their manly and steadfast support, and believes that time will demonstrate the approval of the state.

The Public's Business Statement.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Business transactions of nearly every city of the United States have increased during the past week as compared with the corresponding week of last year. According to the Public's table of clearing house exchanges, New York has increased 44 and 6-10 per cent; Boston, 16.1; Philadelphia, 9.1; Chicago, 12.5; Cincinnati, 6.8; Baltimore, 17.4; New Orleans, 1.3; San Francisco, 6.6; Louisville, 65.0; Pittsburg, 4.0; Kansas City, 43.7; Indianapolis, 47.8; Cleveland, 28.3; Hartford, 1.6; New Haven, 37; St. Joseph, 26.2; Syracuse, 13.7; Lowell), 18.4. The following have decreased: Baltimore 7.0; Milwaukee, 3.3; Providence, 16.17. The exchanges for the entire month are: New York and Boston, were greater than ever before, which fact is accounted for by heavy stock speculations.

A Louisiana Village Destroyed by a Storm.

PASS MANCHAC, Feb. 9.—A terrific storm of wind and rain from the southwest struck this town this morning at about three, sweeping away every building in the place, including the depot and telegraph office. No lives were lost, but the citizens lose everything in the way of house hold effects, provisions, etc.

Steamer Lost.

BILOXI, Miss., Feb. 9.—The steamship Josephine, Capt. Staples, from Savana to New Orleans, broke up at 3 o'clock this morning on Ship Island. The passengers and crew were all saved after seven hours' floating. The vessel is a total wreck and nothing can be saved from her. The value of the steamer was $200,000. The storm along the coast was the severest for years. There is not an entire wharf or boat house between Mississippi City and Biloxi.

The New Orleans Flood.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9.—Water in the rear of the city still rising.

Another Cabinet Secret Discovered.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 9.—Leading republicans believe and understood that the postoffice portfolio will be tendered Wisconsin, and that the recipient will be Henry C. Payne of this city.

Fatal Railroad Collision in Illinois.

PANA, Feb. 9.—A fatal accident occurred ten miles northwest of this city at Oweneco yesterday evening. A construction train on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad was backing towards Oweneco in order to give a passenger train passage northwest. Workmen on the train had been laying new rails and taking up old ones, and had a flat car full of iron just in front of the caboose, into which twenty-five or thirty workmen were crowded. The passenger train was coming at unusual speed in order to make up lost time and the two collided with a fearful shock. The engine and the passenger train tore through the caboose, pushing the occupants among the masses of iron on the flat car, killing three outright and seriously injuring ten others.

Coinage Test.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—The annual test of coinage of the U. S. mint in this city, the San Francisco mint, and the Carson (Nev.) mint, was commenced here to-day.

A Fatal Shot.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 9.—City Marshal L. A. Abington, of Collierville, Tenn., attempted last night to arrest a desperado who was creating a disturbance in a saloon in that city. The man resisted Abington and a young man named Will Payne, who had gone to his assistance, whereupon Payne seized a shot gun and blew off the head of the unknown ruffian. Abington and Payne's wounds are slight.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Revolutionary Claims.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The house committee on war claims decided to-day to report adversely upon Representative Hunton's bill to provide for the settlement of unpaid claims of those officers of the line of the revolutionary army who served to the close of the war of independence and so returned on the books of the treasury. The bill as adopted will involve the payment of several million dollars.

An Appropriation Wanted.

The secretary of war to-day reported to congress the recent destruction by fire of the army headquarters at Prescott, Arizona, and added that the general of the army has submitted an estimate recommended by the quartermaster general, an appropriation of the amount est mated, namely, $30,000, is earnestly advised. Delegate Campbell, who has been very active in procuring these recommendations, intends to follow them up before the committee on appropriations, and is confident that the desired item will be included in the sundry civil appropriation bill.

Pacific Coast Items in the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The house of representatives, after settling down to ordinary business this afternoon passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, which contains distinctive Pacific coast items as follows:

For the San Francisco mint—Salaries, $24,800; wages of workers and adjusters, $260,000; incidental and contingent expenses, $70,000.

Carson City mint—Salaries, $23,55[illegible]; wages, $65,000; incidental expenses, including amount necessary to complete a boiler and engine house, $30,000.

San Francisco sub-Treasury—Salaries, $22,080.

Assay Office, Helena, Montana—Salaries, $5050; wages, $10,000; incidentals, $10,000.

Assay Office at Boise City, Idaho—Salaries and incidentals, $9000.

Mint at Denver—Salaries, $10,950; wages, $12,000; incidentals, $6000.

For clerks in the office of the California surveyor general, including those completing, translating and index ng originals from destruction, $32,250.

Appropriations for clerical work in other Pacific coast surveyor generals' offices are—For Nevada, $3000; Oregon, $1200; Washington territory, $5500; Idaho, $2700; Montana, $3000; Dakota, $3500; Utah, $4000; New Mexico, $3000; Colorado, $3500; Arizona, $4000. The bill makes the usual appropriation for salaries for all other federal officials.

Failed to Find the Culprit.

The senate went into executive session this afternoon, on motion of Saulsbury, who, it is understood, thereupon verbally reported the methods employed and negative results attained by the election committee in its investigation of means by which publicity was given Chinese treaties. Considerable talk ensued, but it was no learned that any additional instructions was given. It is intimated, however, that the investigation will be continued.

A Year's Postal Business.

The following estimate is made of the total amount of matter passing through the mails during the year of 1880: Number of letters, 2,931,224; postal cards, 163,046,912; newspapers, 496,700,153; pieces of all classes, 1,105,502,820.

THE ELECTORAL COUNT.

A Vast Audience in the Hall of the House—Merely Formal Proceedings and no Excitement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The desire to witness the count of the electors' votes and announcement of the result of the last presidential election to-day drew an immense throng to the capitol, and although the proceedings were simply formal and entirely devoid of excitement, the spectacle of the vast assemblage in the hall of the house was uncommonly impressive and interesting. The galleries were soon filled to overflowing. The floor was also made brilliant with ladies' toilets interspersed among the members' seats from the rows occupied by the grave and reverend senators close back to the doors of the cloak rooms, and the whole scene, with its attendant and thorough-going spreading spirit of good nature, suggested an inter act at the opera more than anything else, and afforded a striking contrast with the tumultuous excitement and sense of danger which characterized the stormy electoral count of four years ago. Among the distinguished outsiders who occupied seats on the floor to-day were Secretary Evarts, Attorney General Devens and Private Secretary Rogers. Senators Conkling and Bayard, by some mischance, were assigned to seats in the front row, immediately adjacent, but throughout the proceedings neither spoke nor looked towards the other. With this noticeable exception, the members of both political parties seemed to vie with one another in manifestations of good feelings from first to last, and the proceedings terminated as they began, without a ripple of excitement except of a pleasurable character.

CANADA.

Another Telegraph Grab.

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—The stock exchange is greatly excited over an announcement of a transfer of Montreal Telegraph Co. stock to Wills & Co., of the Bank of New York, a director of the Western Union. The movement it is thought foreshadows the absorption of the Montreal company by the great consolidation. The Montreal company has a capital of $3,000,000. Its system covers the dominion and extends through northern New York.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Counting of the Electoral Vote in the Hall of the House.

Garfield and Arthur Duly Declared President and Vice President.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.

At 12 o'clock the vice president announced that the hour appointed for counting the electoral vote had arrived. The senate with the vice president at its head, proceeded to the hall of the house of representatives. Upon its return the senate received from Hamlin reports of the letters of the two houses, accompanied by a preamble reciting the result, with a resolution that the two houses are of the opinion that the constitution and laws have been duly executed, and no further declaration of facts seems necessary; adopted.

Hoar offered a resolution, which was adopted, for printing, for the use of the senate, of the letter by Hon. Edward Everett, written after his retirement from the office of secretary of state in reply to Lord John Russell on the proposed tripartite convention relating to Cuba. He said that the letter contained valuable discussion of the Monroe doctrine, and had never having been included in the official documents published by congress, a copy of it could not be found in congressional or other public libraries.

On motion of Voorhees, the house joint resolution granting condemned cannon to the Boston monumental association passed.

The pension appropriation bill was taken up and discussion of Plumb's amendment increasing pensions officials, continued. After debate, a suggestion which met with general favor, was made by Buckalew that there was necessity in the pension office for an increase of clerical force, etc.

Pending consideration of the legislative appropriation bill, Plumb's amendment was tabled; ayes, 27; nays, 18, and the bill passed.

Morgan introduced a bill for settlement with the Ponca tribe of Indians and for other purposes relating to their welfare; referred.

Wallace moved to take up the postoffice appropriation bill. The motion was agreed to, and he said being taken up the senate went into executive session and when the doors reopened, adjourned.

House.

The galleries were crowded in anticipation of the electoral count, but there was no excitement. In four years ago, the morning hour was dispensed with, and the house went into committee on the legislative appropriation bill, but soon without concluding, and Singleton offered a resolution extending the privilege of the floor to ladies who could not secure gallery seats; adopted. Shortly after noon the president of the senate arrived. The vice president took a seat on the right hand of Speaker Randall, and the senators took front rows of desks. The vice president called the assembly to order and said: "The two houses being assembled in pursuance of the constitution, the votes may now be counted, and declared for president and vice president. It becomes my duty under the constitution as president of the senate to open the certificates of election of the several states of the union in the presence of the two houses, and I now proceed to discharge that duty." The tellers having taken their places, the vice president said: "I open a package purporting to contain a certificate of election from the state of Alabama and send the certificate to be reported." Senator Hamlin read the certificate slowly, showing the votes for Hancock and English, and the vice president said: "The votes of Alabama having been recorded by the tellers, I open and hand to them the certificate of Arkansas." The same proceeding was observed in that case.

Reagan then moved to dispense with formal reading; agreed to.

The California certificate showed that 6 of the 6 votes of that state were for Hancock and 1 for Garfield.

When Georgia was reached Crowley read the certificate, Springer demanding the reading in full. It shows that on Dec. 6th 11 votes of Georgia were cast for Hancock and English.

The vice president said that it appearing from the certificate that the vote of Georgia was cast on a day other than that fixed for casting such votes by act of congress, in pursuance of the constitution the result of this certificate will not be recorded until, in the language of the concurrent resolution under which this count proceeds, it will appear whether counting or omitting to count such votes will change the result of the election.

Illinois, Iowa and other states in order were counted.

The tellers announced that the whole number of electors voting were 369, of which a majority is 185. Were the vote of the Georgia electors cast on the 8th of December counted, the result would be: For Garfield, 214; Hancock, 155. If not counted, the result would be: Garfield, 214; Hancock, 144. In either event, Jas. A. Garfield has received a majority of the whole number of electoral votes. The same statement was made respecting the vice president, wherefore the vice president declared James A. Garfield, president and Chester A. Arthur vice president of the United States for four years, beginning March 4, 1881. [Loud applause.] The senate then retired, and House presented the house a report of the count, and after the formal record by resolution of the proceedings, the house went into committee on the legislative appropriation bill.

Gillette offered an amendment providing that the expense of printing national bank notes shall be charged to banks applying for the same. Subsequently he withdrew the amendment, stating that he would offer it as an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The committee arose and reported the bill to the house when it passed. Only one vote, that of Turner, was cast in the negative.

Convert reported back the agricultural appropriation bill; referred to committee of the whole.

A controversy then arose as to priority of business. Cox desired to call up the transportation bill, Reagan the river and harbor bill and Hiscocks the Fitzjohn Porter case, while Conger wished to go to the business on the speaker's table. Frye, however, cut out all these propositions by calling up a resolution reported from the committee on rules, providing that hereafter whenever the morning is dispensed with, that an hour shall be set apart as the time during which members may ask to pass bills on the calendar. By consent, five objections to be fatal to consideration of any bill.

A noisy discussion ensued, which at one time became very acrimonious and angry between Hackburn and Frye. Blackburn denied that he had received notice of any meeting of the committee on rules at which the proposition had been considered, and enquired of Frye whether there had been a quorum of the committee present.

Frye replied that there had been no quorum, but he had been instructed to submit a proposition to absent members. He had not been able to find the gentlemen from Kentucky, however.

Blackburn replied that he had been present at every roll call of the house. It was not his fault if the gentleman could not find him. He proceeded to explain his understanding of the matter, when he was sharply interrupted by Frye, who said that the gentleman understood the matter perfectly well.

Blackburn—The gentleman will understand better.

Frye—How, sir?

Blackburn—Does the gentleman say that there was a majority of the members of the committee present when this rule was considered?

Frye—The gentleman understands what I said, doesn't he? I stated the fact that I was called to a meeting of the committee of rules; that there were but two members present; that the gentleman was not there. I was instructed to submit the rule to absent members and I could not find the gentleman from Kentucky. Why he should charge me, at least by implication—

Blackburn (interrupting)—I never deal in implications. I always use direct assertions. I stated to the house that it was not my purpose to refer to the gentleman in any way for the support of the resolutions; but I also stated that I was never present at a meeting of the committee at which the proposition was considered, and never been called to such meeting and had never seen such resolution, though in my place every day.

Frye—Suppose that should turn out to be true.

Blackburn—Does the gentleman question it?

Frye—I am going on with my supposition.

Blackburn—Does the gentleman question it?

Frye—I am not going on with any supposition.

Blackburn—Does the gentleman question it? Will he have manliness enough to answer the question?

The speaker stated that the gentleman from Maine refused to be interrupted.

Frye continuing, repeated his former statements.

Townshend (Ill.) raised a point of order that the resolution not coming from a quorum of the committee on rules was not in order. It had been reported by a gentleman from Maine that it was reported from this committee when it was not.

Frye—What does the gentleman mean? It was reported from the committee.

Townshend—The gentleman represented that it was reported from the committee. He now contends that it was reported with the concurrence of only two members.

Frye—I did not confess anything of the kind, and the gentleman must be dull to understand it so. The resolution was then agreed to.

Blackburn and Frye being applauded when taking seats as tellers, they cordially shook hands. Adjourned.

ATLANTIC CABLE.

South Africa.

DURBAN, Feb. 9.—Gen. Colley moved toward Newcastle yesterday with five companies of the 61st Rifles and mounted force to restore communication between his camp and Newcastle. The Boers made a general attack upon the British forces, and the artillery replied to them with heavy loss. Fighting lasted six hours. Colley's position is becoming critical. The Boers have taken up commanding positions on all sides.

SUPREME COURT OF OREGON.

Stephen M Jarrd, app'l, vs. Douglas County resp.

PUBLIC HIGHWAYS—PROCEEDING TO LAY OUT—NOTICE—HOW AND BY WHOM SERVED.—When a petition for laying out a highway was presented to the county court and the notice of the application given to interested parties was not signed by the petitioners, and the proof of service stated that the notice was posted in three public places, without stating where those places were. Held, that the laying out of a highway through the land of a private owner, is a taking of private property for public use; that the notice required by the statute must be the return of process and should have been signed by the petitioners; and that a notice signed "A. P. Kennedy, attorney," was a nullity.

BY THE COURT, WALDO, J.

This is an appeal from the judgment of the circuit court for Douglas county, dismissing on a writ of review directed to the county court of said county, acting as a board of county commissioners.

On the first day of September, 1879, a petition was presented to said court acting as a county board, signed by a person requisite number of freeholders, praying said court to lay out and open a road upon a route therein described, and the following copy of notice and proof of service was filed with the petition:

"NOTICE.—All persons concerned are hereby notified that application will be made to the county court of Doug as county, Oregon, at the next session for laying out and locating a county road beginning at the north west corner of the town of Looking Glass, in section 15 in township 27 S, in range 7 W, in said county and state; thence north to the southwest corner of Peter Burns' lot, in section 36 in said township and range; thence in an easterly course on the line and grade of the Coos bay military wagon road, as now traveled, to the west line of Stephen Minard's fence, thence around the foot of the hill on the original survey line and grade of said Coos bay wagon road to the South Umpqua river at Owen's ferry, opposite the town of Roseburg.

(Signed), "A. H. KENNEDY,
Attorney for App'lcants."

July 28, 1879.

State of Oregon, County of Douglas—

"A. H. Kennedy being first duly sworn, upon his oath says: I gave notice by advertisement posted at the place of holding county court, and also in three public places in the vicinity of said proposed road thirty days previous to the presentation of said petition in the notice hereto annexed mentioned, by letter to county court, notifying all persons concerned that application will be made to said county court by heirs present session for laying out a county road as in said notice mentioned, a true and correct copy of which notice is annexed hereto and not forth."

(Signed), "A. H. KENNEDY."

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of September, 1879. (Signed) "T. H. SHERIDAN, County Clerk."

Upon such petition and notice such proceedings were had by the county court that on the 8th day of January, 1880, the said proposed road was ordered to be opened and declared to be public a highway.

On the 7th day of April, 1880, the appellant, a land owner, a portion of whose land had been taken for the use of the road, presented his petition for a writ of review to the circuit court for Douglas county, and a writ was thereupon issued, directed to said board, commanding them to certify their proceedings to said circuit court, and upon a hearing upon the return to said writ, judgment was rendered dismissing the writ, from which said judgment appellant appeals to this court.

The appellant is clearly entitled to a writ of review of the act on of the county court. 5 Oregon, 280.

Some objection was made to the act that the case was entitled as against the county court of Douglas county, and not against the county. But the application for the writ was an ex parte proceeding, and the act of the petitioner in entitling his petition as against the county court of Douglas county, was mere surplusage. Ruff vs Phillips, 60 Geo. 150. The writ was directed to the representatives of the county of Douglas, and notice of appeal was directed to and properly served upon said county, so that the county court of Douglas may well be treated as the party respondent. The principal question arises upon the sufficiency of the notice and service to give the court jurisdiction.

Sec. 3, Gen. Laws of Oregon, page 721, requires that when a road is presented for the return of the county court, it shall be accompanied by satisfactory proof that notice has been given by advertisement posted at the place of holding county court, and also in three public places in the vicinity of said proposed road, specifying all persons concerned that application will be made at the session of the county court for laying out said road.

The laying out and opening of a public road through the land of a private person is a taking of his property for public use, and notice must be given him of the proceeding. Says Chitty, C. J., in Stanch vs Swain Commissioners, 3 Michigan, 479, "We cannot hold as was held in Swain vs Williams, 2 Mich., that although the statute is silent on the subject of notice, its necessity is implied when private property is invaded.

In Long ford vs Ramsey county, 15 Minn., 375, it was held even by McMillan, J., that an act of the legislature to locate and establish a station ground in the city of St. Paul, in the county of Ramsey, to the city of St. Anthony, in the county of Hennepin, and appointing three commissioners to determine the damages to owners of land taken for the road, without notice to such owners, was void."

"In all judicial, or quasi judicial proceedings affecting the rights of the citizen, it is a fundamental principle that he shall have notice." (Gilmore vs Stone, 37 Me., 505. See also, State vs Road Commissioners, 12 Vroom, 89; Hickey vs Tompson, 27 Mo. 1; Abbott vs Lindenborne, 4 Pick., 161; Corliss vs Corliss 9 Vt, 330; Howard vs Hutchinson, 10 Maine, 385; Siefert vs Brooks, 34 Wis. 384; Lancaster vs Page 1 Mi ns. 86.)

These cases show the importance of notice to the owner whose land is taken for public use. The proceeding is in its nature judicial, and a copy in court is a matter of right in all judicial proceedings.

The office performed by such notice is explained in Dupont vs Highway Commissioners, 28 Michigan, which was the case of a laying out of a highway, alleged to be void, among other reasons, because the record failed to show that notice had been given to interested parties. "The notice," says Cooley, J., "is in the nature of process." See, also Sturtevant vs Linton, 5 W. Va., 57; Wolford vs Lennon, 4 Colorado, 117; Schneider vs McFarland, 2 N. Y. 462; Cruger vs. Hudson River Rail road Co., 12 N. Y., 190, 22; Scammon vs. City of Chicago, 40 Ill., 146.)

In the theory of the common law all the power of legislature vested from the crown, and courts had no power to compel a party to appear, or to proceed to the determination of a cause, until the king, by his original writ, had issued his command to the sheriff to summon the defendant before them. Here the state is the sovereign by whose power alone the citizen can be compelled to appear in its courts to answer an action brought against him." (Curtis vs McCullough, 3 Nevada, 210; Curry vs Hinman, 11 Ill., 620.)

Hence the notice in this case being in the nature of process to bring a party before a tribunal exercising judicial powers, must be given by some one authorized by the state to give it. What the party notified obeys is not the command of the party who gives the notice, but, through him, of the state, whose agent he is.

In Potwin's appeal, 31 Conn., 381, 384, the court say: "In legal proceedings, and in respect to public matters, the word notified is generally if not universally, used as importing a notice given by some person whose duty it was to give it, in some manner prescribed, and to some person entitled to receive it or be notified."

Notice, in such a case, means more than knowledge. Actual knowledge cannot even be shown, and must be left out of the case altogether. It means the formal process emanating from the source, and served in the manner prescribed by the statute. (Kane, Island County Commissioners, 13 Gray, 12). Public silent sence of the process, and the posting in the public places is the service.

In Case vs Humphrey, 6 Conn., 130, Hosmer, C. J., says: "The service of writs in general is required to be made by a known public officer, and it is but an unwarrantable inference that the safety and security of a citizen is interested in the prevention of any unnecessary departure from this principle" The process, thus, not only emanates from a recognized legal source, but is served by a known public officer, and its authenticity is thus conclusively secured. But in cases like this, where the service is wholly constructive, to virtue supposed to lie in the manner of service is gone, and the facts disclosed on the face of the process itself furnish the evidence that it is genuine legal process. That this evidence could, also, be annihilated, and the paper thus shorn of nearly every attribute that distinguishes process, will exert the power to summon a party before a legal tribunal, is a proposition, it is believed, that cannot be supported on principle, nor by authority founded on principle.

Turning now to the statute, we find that the petition must be signed by the petitioners, and that such petition, when presented, must be accompanied by proof that notice has been given to all interested parties. The parties moving in the proceeding are the petitioners, and it is clear that they are authorized by the statute to give notice, because they are compelled to furnish proof that notice has been given. This necessarily implies, in the absence of other provision, that they are authorized to give the notice. Whenever a power is given by a statute, everything necessary to the making it effectual is given by implication." (Pat. Dwarris on Statutes, 2d.)

It is much plainly appears, that the authority of the petitioners to give the notice is as effectually applied by implication as though it had been given by express words. "That which is implied in a statute is as much a part of it as what is expressed."

Now, whoever asserts more than this—whoever asserts that the statute which authorizes the petitioners to give notice, also authorizes one not a party to the proceeding of a public officer—any indifferent person, as it may please his inclination to invest himself with the sovereign power of the state, in this particular, must show affirmatively where and how that power is to be found. It is certain it must be gotten from the statute, if at all, by implication. If it said that the statute does not require any particular person or persons to give the notice, and therefore any person may give it. But if the first supposition the construction of this statute we find the petitioners invested with this power. We find that the notice which these parties are empowered to give is in the nature of process to bring a party into court; and, further, that no person can exercise such power unless specially authorized, which is to the petitioners, as we have seen, is deduced from the statute by necessary implication; that the petitioners are entirely competent to give the notice, for, if such power is found in the statute by implication, it cannot be a necessary implication that the mode of implying that watch is necessary to make it effectual. But by what other rule of interpretation can it be found there? Where a plain, simple, sensible construction has been given to a statute, nothing more can be incorporated into it by implication. And, further, as to the statute requiring notice to be given, it must be the duty of some body to give it. It cannot be the duty of a stranger, it must therefore be the duty of the petitioners; and hence the proposition that the statute does not require any particular person to give the notice is shown to be untrue.

In addition to all this let it be remembered that the statutes are to be construed in reference to the principles of the common law, for it is not to be presumed that the legislature intended to make any innovation upon the common law further than it was absolutely required. The law further infers that the act did not intend to make any alteration other than what is specified, and besides what has been plainly pronounced, for if the parliament had had that design, it is naturally said, they would have expressed it." (Pot. Dwarris, 185) and the case for that construction of the statute which limits the power to give notice to the petitioners, we are to be unanswerable.

The able counsel for the respondent, among other cases, cited Wright vs Wolfe, 29 Ind., 35, in which was an appeal from an order of it is board of commissioners laying out a highway. It seems that the statute required notice of intent to present a petition, to be given by publication three weeks successively, in a newspaper published in the county, or by posting up notices in three public places in the neighborhood of the highway. Objection was made rather to the sufficiency of the proof of service than to the form of the notice, insisting that the notice must be signed by the officers. Four sections of respondent seeks to avoid the force of this authority by the ground that the statute expressly says that "they" the petitioners shall give notice; but, as has been shown, that is precisely what our statute says.

It appears, too, from the case of State vs Mace, that this view has heretofore been announced, obiter, by this court. Bonham, J., in delivering the opinion in that case, says: "The county court in proceedings for the location of public highways, to condemn the lands of private persons to public use, is only required to cause constructive notice to be given by the petitioners of their application for that purpose."

The fact that the notice is to be in writing implies signing. If it is to notify it in writing, the fact that it, not another, gave the notice, should be shown by the writing—cannot be supplied by parol. The words, in writing import by their own force, that everything essential to a valid notice must be in writing. Drives vs. Adams, 8 Ind., 481; Taylor vs. Burnes, 39 Mich. 320; Road, 5 Harr., Del., 324; Verder vs. The Town of, 1 Wis. 291, 292.

The posting up of proper notices being essential to the jurisdiction of the county court over the proceedings to lay out the road, the defect is not cured by the appearance of the appellant. (Burch vs Detroit, 32 Mich., 132; The King vs Croke, Cowper, 26, 29; Dwight's Case, Council of Springfield, 4 Gray, 107.)

It would seem also that the proof of the posting of the notices should be more definite than that is found in the general statement that they were posted "in three public places in the vicinity of the road." The following authorities, indeed, support the sufficiency of the proof found in the record. (Wright vs Wells 29 Ind., 353; McAllister vs Hoey, 24 Iowa, 302; Carr vs Fayette county, 37 Iowa, 608.)

But if the question "What is a public place?" be a mixed question of law and fact, as laid down in Calhoon vs. Cox, 37 N. H. 372, and Russell vs. Dyer, 40 N. H. 178, the proof furnished by the affidavit of A. P. Kennedy is plainly insufficient. In State vs. Williams, 25 Maine, 561, in a statute requiring a notice to be posted in a public and conspicuous place, the court say that the proof should show in express where the notice was posted. The record should show the facts, so that the court can see whether the notice has been posted in a public place or not. (Dupont vs. Highway Commissioners, 28 Mich., 50; People vs. Commissioners, 14 Mich. 517; Stevens vs. Oberlin, 1 Oregon, 164.)

But any question as to the sufficiency of the proof of service becomes unimportant where the record discloses, as it does in this case, that no legal notice has been given. The proceedings of the county court were void and should have been quashed.

The judgment of the circuit court must be reversed.

Syllabus.—Where a judgment has been obtained against a sheriff for the possession of property wrongfully seized and detained by him under process, and for costs of the action, the plaintiff in such process are not entitled, in equity, to set off against such judgment for costs, a judgment held by them against the party recovering such judgment against the sheriff although they have indemnified the sheriff for such seizure and detention.

A written assignment of the costs and disbursements to be recovered, in such action, executed before the entry of judgment by the plaintiff therein to his attorney, in consideration of professional services rendered in such action, is valid, and will prevent any right of set off from attaching; and such right could not otherwise have been made available. WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE CONVENTION.

Second Day.

As the convention advances the audiences grow larger and much interest is manifested.

Convened at 10 A. M., second day, Mrs Dunway in the chair.

Minutes of previous session approved.

A lengthy and enthusiastic letter was read by the corresponding secretary from Hon. Joseph Nygone, of Grant county, who made a special review of the distinguished people who have favored woman suffrage.

An essay was read from Mrs Julia DeSpain, president of the Umatilla County Women Suffrage Association.

Mrs. Dunway announced arrangements for a public lecture session, under the auspices of the executive committee, to be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Imperial hotel. She also announced the appointment of a committee in connection with the same, consisting of Mrs. J. DeVore Johnson, Mrs. N. A. Dolton and Mrs. L. G. Henderson.

Mr. D'Arcy proposed for discussion the question "Is woman suffrage a right or a question of expediency?"

Mr. D'Arcy spoke for some time in answer to Mr. Cruzan's address of the previous evening, and endeavoring to refute the idea that woman suffrage is a question of expediency.

Mrs. Dr. Thompson spoke briefly on some questions of expediency.

Rev. Mr. Cruzan, in answer to a call, spoke, reiterating his opposition to universal suffrage and his belief that suffrage is an question of expediency. He was willing, he said, to vote if it was found to be an expedient.

Mrs. Dunway answered Mr. Cruzan, agreeing with him to a certain extent. She considered universal suffrage inexpedient, and proposing methods for getting the intelligent and moral qualifications for voters. She believed that present methods voting to be full of evils, being an unequal contest where intelligence and morality were too often vanquished.

Mrs. J. A. Young, of Salem, spoke in favor of universal suffrage, discussing against "Asiatic cheap labor," and all newly arrived foreigners.

Mrs. Dunway announced the following programme for Thursday evening, to commence at o'clock sharp:

Music—piano and flute, Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Bird.

Reading constitution and petition for signatures.

Piano solo, "La Harpe Eolnne," by Miss Nora Wilson.

Address by President Lambert of Willamette University.

Vocal solo, "The Butterfly," by Miss Kate Freeman.

Essay, by Mrs. L. G. Henderson.

Solo, "When the Quiet Moon is Beaming," by Mr. S. M. Claire.

Address, by Rev. T. L. Eliot.

Music—(flute and piano), Dr. and Mrs. O. B. Bird.

Afternoon Session.

Mrs. Dunway again in the chair.

Minutes of previous meeting read, corrected and approved.

The question on "Woman Suffrage: Expedient or Not?" was announced.

Mr. D'Arcy made a logical and eloquent appeal for the affirmative of this. He believed that right should be conferred always in spite of expediency. Even if the president returns to his post and Mrs. Dunway joined in the discussion she thought that though always to be made expedient.

Rev. H. Acton then called for responses in an earnest speech in advocacy of woman suffrage. He did not think it would bring the millenium, but it was woman's right and she ought to have it. It would doubtless bring about great changes, but they were needed.

Mrs. Thompson spoke in favor of right before expedience.

Mrs. E. A. Logan made a brief address.

Mrs. Mary Shaw read an address, which would make a good campaign tract.

Mr. D. W. Davenport was invited to come forward and address the convention. He said that he did not deem it always expedient to do right, in many cases it was not. In regard to the question of woman suffrage, he could not forbid both right and expedient. Advised the women not to waste their time in discussing this question; but go to work as many women do, and let themselves or whatever their imagination leads them to do, such as law, medicine, etc. In the women do these things and send their money as a work that men do the man always.

Short responses were made by Mrs. Dunway and Thomas H. after which Miss Ellen Sexton favored the audience with some instruments, music, while the constitution was being circulated for signatures.

Mrs. Laughery of Yamhill made a short and stirring speech.

The hours of the convention accepted the invitation of Rev. Mr. Eliot to attend a lecture by Miss Merrick, at the Methodist church.

Adjourned till 10 A. M. Thursday.

Dr. Cole, of Canyonville, has $300 worth of dogs killed by dogs recently. One of the Argonia was valued at $75.

Crop prospects in Douglas county are extremely promising, the grain being nearly local pets having a more healthy appearance than in years previous.

The very lowest appraised amount of damage done in Douglas county by the January storm is summed up at $3,450. Of this amount the railroad company lost $1,040 and the county $1,000.

The receipts of the town of Jackson hill for 880 were $2,250 and the expenditures $2,054 70, making indebtedness of $424 60. The town has a new school organization, and can appropriate to show for the taxes of the past year.

The perseverance of Mr. Angles, of East Umpqua is commended. A year ago he constructed a bridge across the stream named in this item. High water came and carried the bridge off. He has since, at his own expense, put in a new bridge, which resists the flood.

On the first of this month all service between Ash and Ashland was suspended under the Hunter contract. It is expected that service will be resumed in a month or two from that time there will be but little inconvenience and no trouble hereafter.

Stage drivers are having a hard time. On Thursday night of last week the stage going north from Rock Point was badly mired, a pole had been cut in the struggle to get out of the mud. The driver was 11 hours in going from Rock Point to Grant's Pass, a distance of 15 miles.

A bridge was built across Jackson creek all the winter a year ago, and as people laughed because it was too high. Now the same parties growl because it was too low, having been nearly covered by the shifting from the upper creek. It is astonishing how hard some people are to please.

Mrs. Thompson spoke in favor of right before experience.

Mrs. E. A. Logan made a brief address.

Mrs. Mary Shaw read an address, which would make a good campaign tract.

Mr. D. W. Davenport was invited to come forward and address the convention. He said that he did not deem it always expedient to do right, in many cases it was not. THURSDAY MORNING, FEB. 10, 1881.

THE CANAL AND CHEAPER FREIGHTS.

California farmers, like those of Oregon, are not satisfied with the current prices for wheat, and are making some efforts to offset the downward tendency of the market. A meeting was held in San Francisco last week by the prominent farmers and wheat growers of the state in which the discussions of all questions relating to production of and trade in the cereal took quite a wide range. Among the interesting addresses read before the meeting, was one by Capt. W. L. Merry, upon a subject regarded as one of vital interest to the producers of the Pacific Coast. This is the construction of the inter-oceanic canal. It was shown that the surplus wheat harvested on the Pacific Coast in 1880 was about 1,325,000 tons, and that the producers stand face to face with the problem of "transportation and a market;" which had been declared by the agricultural society of the state, last summer to be the great question of the future. The solution of this problem was believed to be in the construction of the canal through Nicaragua, and Capt. Merry stated that were the canal available for this year's crops it would save to producers of the coast eleven million dollars. If immediately commenced it can be made available in five years, during which the increased production will render it an absolute necessity. The saving insured by this inter-oceanic communication will be four-fold. First, on largely decreased rates of freight. Second, decreased interest on value of cargo and on freight payable thereon. Third, decreased insurance on freight and on shipping, the latter accruing primarily to the ship owner. Fourth, saving in difference between wheat "just shipped" and nearly due.

To illustrate these points in their order, it is assumed that this year's average rate from San Francisco is $17.50 per ton, via Cape Horn, and at $12.50 via Nicaragua canal, with canal toll of $2.50 per ton. The average rate via Cape Horn is, this years higher than usual, and the rate via canal is placed also correspondingly higher. The class of ocean steamships represented by the National Line, between New York and Liverpool, can carry freight through the canal at $10 per ton, paying $2.50 canal toll, and, with moderate freight on return voyage, netting a fair profit. The canal tolls on net tons will probably not be over $2; but the largest figure is used that has been named in connection with the Nicaragua canal.

The saving thus effected in freight is $5 per ton, and with strong freight competition, doubtless this would be increased. The surplus of Pacific coast wheat this season is placed at 1,450,000 tons. In the calculation interest is placed at 7 per cent. per annum, and the trip via Cape Horn at 135 days—rather below the average in fact. The trip via canal is fixed at 30 days to Liverpool, though 25 would generally suffice. The settlement therefore stands:

First—Interest for 135 days at 7 per cent. is 44 cents per ton on freight; interest for 105 days at 7 per cent is 70 cents per ton on cargo; total interest paid via Cape Horn, $1 14 per ton. Interest via canal, 30 days, 25 cents on freight and cargo; saving per ton in favor of canal route, 81 cents per ton, or 2,000 pounds. In this calculation wheat is valued at $1 80 per cental, the lowest valuation reached this season, and far below the average value.

Third—Insurance. Insurance via Cape Horn, 2½@2¾ per cent.; insurance via canal, 1¼@1½ per cent., saving via canal, 1 per cent., or 20 cents per ton. The above rates were obtained from marine insurance companies by the committee of the San Francisco board of trade, and presume that the safety of ship and cargo are assured by the canal company while under their control, which would necessarily be the case, except as to fire risk.

Fourth—Saving between wheat "just shipped" and "nearly due." The quotations for wheat February 1st were as follows:

Cargoes off English coast (steaming)	47s. per qr.
Cargoes nearly due (sterling)	46s. per qr.
Cargoes just shipped (steaming)	44s. 6d. per qr.

The "nearly due" wheat is sold as due in twenty-five or thirty days, and the quotation is taken as equivalent to "just shipped" via canal, the difference between which and "just shipped" via Cape Horn would be 1s 6d per quarter of 500 pounds, or 6s per ton—approximately $1 50.

Or to recapitulate the saving by canal, we have:

On freight, per ton	$5 00
On interest on cargo and freight	69
On insurance on cargo	20
On difference between "just shipped and nearly due"	1 50
Total saving effected by using Nicaragua canal	$7 65

Making on this season's California surplus of 1,125,000, with Oregon and Washington territory (200,000 tons), a total of 1,325,000 tons, a saving of ten million one hundred and thirty-six thousand two hundred and fifty dollars ($10,136,250) on wheat alone, which would pay for the Nicaragua canal in eighty years.

The careful investigator will, in our increasing production in view, will see no exaggeration in the above figures; indeed, they are within the limits of sober truth, and their comparative correctness is indisputable. When, to the saving thus set forth, are added the benefits accruing to our other numerous productive industries, the intelligent mind begins to comprehend the importance of urging the completion of the Nicaragua inter-oceanic canal. The address concludes by an appeal to the producers of the coast to show the projectors of the canal scheme that the people here appreciate the benefits to be derived from the completion of the work. The figures as presented in the address are certainly enough to sustain the views which the author takes, and ought to enlist the earnest efforts of our members of congress in a matter of so great importance to this part of the coast.

Cannon, the Mormon delegate, proposes to make a fight. A church messenger from Salt Lake recently carried him $80,000 to spend in the coming contest, but it was accepted with a growl that it was not enough. It is reported at Salt Lake that Cannon telegraphed recently to the church authorities that the amount sent to him was contemptible compared with the magnitude of the job in hand; but that he could "buy them all for about ten times that sum"—that is, $800,000. It has not yet been made plain who were the "they" mentioned in the dispatch as being purchasable for that amount of money. There is no doubt that all the available funds in the church are at the command of Cannon in this fight, though there is much opposition among some of the leading men in the church to the last call of the smooth George. Bishop Hunter, who is presumed to hold the tithing purse strings, is not disposed to let that amount go to Washington, as there is nothing certain in the fight. The saints all over the territory are called upon for tithing, and threats of excommunication and everlasting damnation are made in order to make the weak-kneed Mormons come to time. But the brethren are not coming to time. There is dissatisfaction in the fold, and the church leaders, if they finally conclude to send George Q. Cannon the amount he calls for in order to defeat Campbell, will find that the spirit of oneness has vanished from Zion.

Congress counted the electoral votes yesterday, the proceedings being entirely formal and unattended with any interruption. The vote of Georgia which had not been cast on the day appointed by law, was counted or not counted, just as the party which may happen to be in the majority in congress hereafter, may desire to interpret the proceedings. It was an act of moral cowardice on the part of a majority of the two houses of congress that the question whether the failure of the Georgia electors to meet on the day appointed by law, invalidated the vote. The same question may arise at a time when its decision will affect the result and then it is likely to be decided from a partisan standpoint, and precedent established which may be far from satisfactory to the country. Now it could have been decided on its merits and settled for all time to come but political ideas prevailed over the principles of statesmanship and it is left as a heritage of contention on occasions when the probability of an arrival at a correct determination will be much less than it might have been now.

Elsewhere in to-day's OREGONIAN will be found the opinion delivered by the supreme court in deciding the case of Stephen Minard against Douglas county. The case is an important one, involving, as it does, questions never before passed upon by the courts of Oregon. Though our law on the subject of highways has been in force for many years, it has not been administered according to its true intent and meaning. The opinion is an able and exhaustive one—fully fortified by the views and decisions of the ablest jurists of the older states, having statutes similar to our own—and the fundamental principles therein enunciated and reiterated are incontrovertible.

The Pennsylvania legislature when full is composed of two hundred and fifty-one members, though there are at present three vacancies, two members having died since the election and one who was elected having refused to take the oath of office. Hence in a full joint convention of both houses it will require one hundred and twenty-five votes to elect or thirty more than Mr. Oliver has yet had. The law of that state, however, is such that a majority of a quorum of the two houses will elect in case no more are present and vote. Hence if the democrats should absent themselves or decline to vote, Oliver has supporters enough to elect him.

Jackson, of Tennessee, and Sowell, of New Jersey, each occupied a seat in the legislature which elected him U. S. senator. There is nothing like standing round when the lightning is to strike. President-elect Garfield was a member of the convention which nominated him. If the senatorial bolts have fallen as fortunately for the country as did the presidential it is well.

Gov. Phelps of Missouri, who has just retired from office, is declared by the Globe Democrat to have been far better than his party, and turns over the state to his successor, with a far better reputation for financial integrity and for observance of the principles of law and order than it had when he assumed the reins of her government.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—12:30.—For California, clear or partly cloudy weather,

CITY.

DWELLING BURNED.—Several days since a dwelling known as the "Old Eddy Farm House," situated near Milwaukie, caught fire and was totally destroyed. At the time the house was occupied by Mr. William Atkinson. He, with his wife and daughter, were in the house when the fire was discovered. The fire is supposed to have caught from the chimney, for, when first seen, the flames had enveloped the entire roof. Mr. Atkinson and his family removed as many household articles as possible, but the fire spread with such rapidity that more than half the effects were destroyed. Neither the house nor contents was insured. The building belonged to the firm of Sverdrup & Beebe. The house was valued at about $550, while Mr. Atkinson's loss will not be less than $600.

CHAMBREAU'S LECTURE.—Dr. Lindsley gave notice of this lecture in his church for next Sunday evening. The subject is, "The Present Condition of the Indians in the Northwest, and the Efforts being made to Civilize them." Edward Chambreau, who has for thirty-four years been more or less engaged among them, will deliver a lecture in which the character and wants of these people will be shown. Mr. C was employed by Gen. Heward as his confidential agent, and in this capacity rendered the most decisive service to the country. The lecture will be very interesting and worthy the attention of the benevolent and philanthropic. Mr. C. is well known all over the country as Ned Chambreau.

EXCITE AT CORVALLIS.—The Presbyterian church of Corvallis have engaged Rev. J. A. Cruzan, of this city, to give his lecture on "Success and How to Win It" in that city Tuesday evening, Feb. 15th. Mr. Cruzan gave this lecture in Masonic Hall, this city, two years ago for the Young Men's Debating Society, and it was one of the best in the course. Corvallis should give it a full house.

OPIUM ORDINANCE.—At the last meeting of the East Portland board of trustees, the committee on health and police, to whom was referred the ordinance relating to opium smoking, reported the same back and recommended its passage. On motion, the report of the committee was adopted.

LOST WOOD.—During the high water, John Rines & Co., lost about 50 cords of wood. Mr. O'Shea, who had his wood piled along the river bank near the Red House, lost several hundred cords. Other parties in this city are also heavy losers.

SPECIAL POLICEMEN.—Mr. W. W. Brothers has been elected special policeman of East Portland, by the board of trustees, for the year ending Nov. 1, 1881.

NEW ENGLAND DINNER.—The ladies of the Unitarian congregation propose giving a "New England dinner" at their chapel, Feb. 22d.

GOOD WORDS FOR OREGON.

Mr. Jas. B. Montgomery, who is now east, was recently interviewed by a representative of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. In response to inquiries by the reporter, Mr. Montgomery said:

"The prospects for the future of Oregon were never so bright and as at the present time. More miles of railroad have been constructed during the past year than ever before in the history of that state, and more are projected for the coming year. In fact Oregon is awakening up to her railroad interests, and develop ng her resources proportionately.

"Is Oregon advancing in agriculture, productions?"

"Rapidly—very rapidly. The wheat crop of last year was immense, and the completion of the present projected railroads will make that state a rival of California. Her timber is the most remarkable in any state in the union, in quantity and quality. Oregon has also large beds of coal."

"What of Oregon politics?"

"Although a thoroughly republican state, it is now represented in the United States senate by two democrats. This is caused from dissensions in the party, which occur there sometimes in state elections, but never in a presidential contest. Our majority last year was about 700. We have doubled in population in the last ten years, but have not increased sufficiently to gain an additional member."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Ask your jeweler for "Silver Foam," a solution for polishing, cleaning and restoring to its original luster jewelry, gold silver and plated ware.

Durnor, of the Post Office Candy Store, will not allow the grass to grow under his feet, but keeps straight ahead, as will be seen by his announcements in these columns.

Parrish & Cornell, the well known real estate agents, have moved to 147 ½ Third street, next to Olds & King. Bear this in mind, all those who wish to buy or rent real estate or houses.

J. F. D. Wrinkle & Co. have just completed their annual stock taking and have thousands of yards of remnants, which they offer for sale at one-half the usual price. The stock of remnants consists of flannels, dress goods, cassimeres, table linens, silks, ribbons, prints, calicoes, etc. Have also a large line of hampers of hosiery, gloves, ladies' and gents' underwear.

THE WATER.

The Willamette river is steadily but slowly receding. Since having reached the highest point a few days ago the water has gone down nearly three feet. At the present rate of recedence the river will be down to its accustomed channel in the course of a week, at most. Trains on the east side are now making regular trips and running on schedule time.

Reports from up the Columbia indicate that the river is falling steadily. The following dispatches were received last evening at 5 o'clock:

Cascades—Cloudy; calm; thermometer, 38; river fell 8 inches to-day.

Dalles—Cloudy; calm; thermometer, 38; river fell 2 feet last 24 hours.

BRIEF NOTES.

Down goes the river.

Grand jury in session.

The carnival was a grand success.

The "State" will sail hence Saturday morning.

Ambitious rose buds have commenced to swell.

The steamer Oregon will sail from San Francisco this morning.

The case of State vs James Rawlins, charged with murder, is on trial in the state circuit court.

THE A. O. U. W. CARNIVAL.

BRILLIANT SCENE AT NEW MARKET LAST NIGHT.

A Short, Pleasing Concert; Short, Good Address and a Splendid Ball—List of Maskers, etc., etc.

New Market Theatre never presented a handsomer scene than that last night, on the occasion of the carnival masque given by the lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. Unlike nearly every other grand entertainment given here, it began promptly on time with an overture by a fine orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. H. C. Kay. The second number, Mr. Coursen's violin solo, "Lucia di Lammermoor," unaccompanied, was one of his best efforts here. Mrs. Goodell was in splendid voice and rendered with characteristic sweetness and feeling "Luna," by Gabriel. The favorite baritone, Mr. Kinross sang "Will o' the Wisp" in splendid style. The duet, "The Moon hath Raised her Lamp Above," by Mr. Kinross and Mr. Franklin was a fine condition. All these artists were encored, but responded with bows of acknowledgement. Miss DuBois as usual was received with loud applause. She sang "Il son Titanic" in her own magnificent style, and in response to an enthusiastic encore gave the very sweet ballad "Sing, Sweet Bird."

Hon. J. N. Dolph's address was a plain statement of the progress, the present standing and the workings and the merits of the order. It was devoid of the blaze of glory with which orators are wont to surround civic societies, hence thoroughly appreciated by the members, and no less by those not within the circle.

After a wait of twenty minutes, the scene across the middle of the stage was drawn aside, and the masked couples began to march in through an arch in the extreme rear of the stage. The orchestra was stationed in the gallery, and the whole space from the dress circle nearly back to Second street was soon filled with handsome, comic and unique costumes. And the moving picture of dancers was beautifully framed. At one end a semi-circle of well dressed ladies and gentlemen, which filled the auditorium to the walls, at the sides the beautiful chandeliers and boxes, and at the rear, the tinsel settings that New Market theater affords. Promptly at 9:40 the first quadrille was called, and dancing was kept up until 11:30, when masks were removed.

Following is a list of ladies and gentlemen present. The name of every one in attendance could not be obtained, on account of imperfect arrangements for it by the committee, but the list below is almost complete:

LADIES.

Miss Fannie Gothe—Fairy Queen.
Mrs. Dr. Edward—Pink Domino.
Mrs. Bell—A. O. U. W.

A CASE OF VAGRANCY.

Which Developed other Interesting Matters and Things.

About two weeks ago, one C. H. Clark, who also passed himself off as Wells, and as Howard was arrested for vagrancy. He had been seen roaming about the streets from 10 P. M. until 3 A. M. for nearly three months, and so far as the police could ascertain his means of support. On Sunday of last week in the presence of Chief of Police Lappens and Mayor D. P. Thompson he made a statement that he had been hired by Luzerne Besser and W. S. Beebe to watch Mayor Thompson; and if he found out certain things and would bring two affidavits to prove them, he would receive $400; that he (Clarke) was to be called to watch other houses in town and report the results of his investigations to them. When arrested, Clarke had a memorandum book which contained a detailed account of his daily watchings; the persons he had seen, whom they went during the day and evening, sums of money paid him, a list of the members of the city council with remarks opposite each name as to whether they could be bought or not, how cheap their influence could be obtained, etc., etc. He was released and arrested a second time on the same charge. The trial was called Monday, but was continued till yesterday. At the usual hour, 1 P. M., the police court room was filled with spectators, most of them also many attending all sessions, but composed of prominent citizens who expected to hear rich revelations concerning transactions of Leeb, Besser & Co. Nothing particular was adduced in the testimony, except in that of Chief of Police Lappens, Mayor Thompson and the defendant himself, all three agreeing in the point, that Beebe and Besser had hired the defendant to watch Mr. Thompson, and had paid him for such service.

The city was represented by the attorney, J. C. Moreland, and the defendant by Geo. W. Bonham. The following jury was selected: Frank Bohm, Capt. Chas. Holman, J. K. Gill, J. F. Meltosh, C. F. Bacon and L. M. Parrish. Officers Barton, Eastman, Day, Branch, Hudson, Luther and Mott testified that they had seen him roaming about the city after midnight, apparently without occupation. The clerks of the National, Occidental and Norton House testified concerning the time he retired, etc.

Chief of Police Lappens testified in substance as follows: "Have known the defendant for six or six months. Knew him just after the fire at Newberry, Hathorne & Co.'s warehouse. Saw him frequently at late hours. Met him once at the express office between 1 and 2 A. M. I asked him his business. He answered, 'Working up arson cases.' I ordered his arrest. He made a statement in my office on Sunday of last week, in the presence of Mayor Thompson and myself, giving a history of his doings since his arrival in Portland about four months ago. He stated that he had been sent for by F. M. Arnold to come here and work up several jobs that Arnold took him to lawyer Beebe's office and introduced him to Beebe and Besser, who told him that they wanted some jobs worked up; that there was money in them and he could have half he made. One portion an object was to watch Mayor Thompson, and if he found out anything about him and could bring two affidavits to prove them, he would receive $400; that Thompson was rich, and if confronted with these affidavits he would pay liberally to keep them out of the courts; that Lawyer Beebe had suggested to him to secure a room in New Market block, take a woman in the room and then he (Clarke) to send for Thompson under some pretext, then catch Thompson in the room with her, and get evidence in that way. I told him that would not do, as Thompson owned the building and had a right in it."

For the defense, a number of witnesses testified as to the previous good character of the defendant. George L. Story testified that Clarke had been engaged by the underwriters to look after the persons supposed to have been connected with the fire in Newbury, Hawthorne & Co.'s warehouse.

S. S. Cook and E. J. Joffery each testified that Clarke was in their employ on private business; that they paid him wages; that some talk was going round about the public levee, and he was employed to ferret the measure.

The defendant testified that he had been employed by the insurance companies, by S. S. Cook & Co., by C. P. Ferry and by F. M. Arnold. After considerable questioning he acknowledged that he was employed also by Besser to watch D. P. Thompson, and had been paid $100 for his services. He denied many portions of the statement attributed to him by Chief Lappens, and acknowledged that he had lied to the chief in some particulars and told the truth in others.

FOUND GUILTY.

After argument by the opposing counsel the case was submitted to the jury. The jury retired for deliberation, and after being out about three-quarters of an hour, returned a verdict of guilty as charged in the complaint.

HOME AND SCHOOL HYGIENE.

A Most Interesting Lecture by Miss MacConnell.

The interest in the course of social science lectures at the Unitarian chapel, increases with each week and every seat was taken by 7 o'clock yesterday evening, to listen to what proved to be an admirable lecture on Home and School Hygiene by Miss MacConnell, herself a teacher for many years, and, through the accident of war, the guardian and foster mother of a sister's children. Miss MacConnell speaks from more than theoretic knowledge and full time of experience was in her every sentence. She agrees with Dr. Richardson, the now famous English sanitarian, that there is no reason why a docile life, with vigor of the highest kind, should not extend, like a long Indian summer, to the age of seventy years or later. Knowledge of the law of health and the practice of them, measurably such a prolongation of bodily vigor can everyone's power, especially if parents have done their duty for the child in nursery and school years. By the aid of a skeleton provided for the purpose from the Medical College, the lecturer described the act of breathing and standing, and showed how improper acting in that direct y crowd that most vitally important organ, the diaphragm. To breathe and eat properly are the most important physical acts, and not only should we breathe as we must, love untarily, but every one, at least twice a day, should "make a mess of fresh air," exercising the lungs by full expansion and contraction to their extent of movement. The importance of having the weight of clothing hang from the shoulders, was shown, and the motion given against weight upon the central organs of the body. The second or lower curve of the back, that which throws the whole trunk into the best position, was illustrated and various exercises suggested for the proper development of the whole frame. Miss MacConnell dress not oppose herself and ornament in dress, but these are not inconsistent with absolute freedom of every muscle and limb.

Of food, she said that mothers especially ought to know what it does, and how growing children need more and better food than older elders. Good cooking was magnified, and the selection and preparation of food she considered worthy of a place by the side of the sciences. A number of judicious rules were given about bathing, sleeping rooms, etc. One important word concerning sleeping apartments was that suggesting that they should be without carpets or curtains, and only should contain the plain and necessary necessary furniture. The speaker made beautiful allusion to the tonic effect of hope in growing years. To eat, sleep and grow through the caterpillar stage, and flutter the wings of joy and unanxious thought in the butterfly stage of their lives, are the right of children; and the first duty of parents is to provide for it. When school days come, no much care cannot be taken for the best recreation in bodily development. The only land of childlessness in a school room is that which "does itself" through earnestness of interest in study. Between the lessons five minutes' exercise, with open windows, etc., should be given.

The following earnest remarks in behalf of girls' play, that it be as free-hearted, boisterous and varied as that of boys. We cannot do justice in a report to this part of the lecture, which won hearty applause from the audience. In speaking Miss MacConnell spoke most impressively of the "communism of interest," which should give to girls a share in the physical training now accorded to boys, and to boys the moral purity and sensitiveness of girl nature. We hear of the highest aim was the one to form a perfect wife and mother; let it be the highest aim of the other to be a perfect husband and father. This purpose, held secondary to no other, will justify the hope of a regenerated world. In all, "we do not train up a soul, nor yet a body, but a man, who in physical strength and moral purity finds the beautiful unity of his nature and its perfect pace."

The music was furnished by 2 essrs. Aylock and Morgan, with Miss Atwood an accompanist. The next lecture is on Feb. 16, by Miss Helen Spalding, on a deeply important theme, "The Care of the Insane."

CITY.

ABOUT RESERVED SEATS.—Heretofore it has frequently occurred that persons who have reserved seats at New Market theater, and paid for them, have found when reaching there that these same seats were occupied. Naturally, this confusion has caused complaint and much dissatisfaction. The fault has been in the system of numbering the tickets sold, and not of the management. Mr. Stenchan, the manager of the theater, has at last devised a plan by which there can not possibly be a mistake. Under his system, no seats can be sold twice. Those who reserve seats can rest assured that there will hereafter be no occasion for complaint. Mr. Stenchan will refund the money to parties should any mistake occur, and allow them to see the performance free.

NEW COUNTY SURVEYOR.—Some weeks ago it was announced in these columns that Multnomah county was without a surveyor. Last summer Mr. C. W. Burrage, who, for several terms, has faithfully and efficiently discharged the duties of county surveyor, was re-elected. He did not seek the nomination—indeed did not desire the office. Notwithstanding this fact, he was nominated and elected without opposition. However, he declined to qualify, as required by law, assigning as a reason that the salary was not sufficient to warrant him in entering into bonds. Thus matters have stood until yesterday, when the county court appointed Mr. J. A. McQuinn. The gentleman qualified at once and entered upon the duties as county surveyor.

ST. JOSEPH'S SOCIETY.—At the annual meeting of this society the following officers were elected: President, John Donnerberg; vice-president, M. Richards; secretary, John Hartman; treasurer, Lovi Anderson, Board of directors, H. L. Sherman, Jos. Weber and A. Bentgen. In speaking of this society, the Catholic Sentinel says: "The society is in a very flourishing condition, having quite a sum of money well and profitably invested. The society, under the management of the above named officers, is in a fair way of reaching the so much desired object, the purchase of a piece of ground and the erection thereon of a church to be used under the direction of the proper ecclesiastical authority, by the German Catholics of this city."

ROCK QUARTZ.—Mr. Lay Crandall of eastern Oregon, arrived in this city a few days ago, bringing with him some rich specimens of gold and silver bearing quartz. This rock was obtained on Pine creek, in Union county, where Mr. Crandall has located a claim. The lode is very well defined—extending for a distance of 2000 feet and is about two in width at the surface. Several assays have been made of this quartz, and as a result shows a yield of gold and silver ranging from $40 to $100 per ton. It is proposed to organize a joint stock company to operate these mines, when a proper encouragement to the enterprise be given.

NEW GOVERNMENT TUG.—Capt. D. E. Buchanan has gone to San Francisco under orders from Col. G. S. Gillespie, to buy, or make arrangements to build a staunch sea going tug for the use of the government in harbor improvements south of the Columbia river. Heretofore the engineers' department has depended on private tugs, which could oftentimes not be secured when most needed, and important work consequently was delayed. The new tug will be used the coming summer in the improvements of Yaquina and the Coquille, and in surveying Columbia river bar.

LOST HIS PLANT.—A telegram was received here yesterday from Walla Walla—the first news by wire for several days—that the plant of J. B. Montgomery, who has the contract for improving Snake river at Palouse rapids below Grange City, under charge of Si. Smith, was carried away by the recent rise, which swelled the river twenty feet. All the scows, the steam drill, machinery and tools were lost. The loss in dollars could not be ascertained, but it will be quite heavy. The accident will delay the improvement a few months.

IN JAIL AGAIN.—C. H. Clark, who was found guilty of vagrancy Wednesday, is behind the bars of the city jail. E. J. Jeffery had become bondsman for the amount of bail, and when he learned what kind of an individual he had become security for, asked with no little show of disgust and some strong adjectives, that he be released and that Clark give his own person for security. So "detective" Clark, or Wells, or Howard, or whatever his name is, was again taken in charge by the police until sentence is passed on him. This will be done tomorrow.

VERDICT OF GUILTY.—The testimony in the case of State of Oregon vs. James Rawlins, indicted for the murder of Kelly "the Vag," was concluded yesterday in the circuit court. Arguments followed by District Attorney J. F. Caples, M. E. Mulkey and Mr. H. Y. Thompson. Judge Stott then delivered the charge to the jury and the case was submitted. After a short deliberation, the jury returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree. Monday morning was fixed by the court as the time for passing sentence.

LAND FOR A FOG WHISTLE.—Col. G. L. Gillespie has bought from Hon. John Leary of Seattle a piece of land for a fog whistle at Sandy, or West Point on Puget Sound. As soon as the title to the property shall have been accepted by the government, work on the building will commence. The whistle will be completed about the middle of next August. When this is done, mariners will have continuous warning sounds in fog horns, bells and whistles from the straits of Fuca to Seattle.

AMOUNT ALLOWED.—The claim presented by the parties who buried the sailors washed ashore from the wrecked ship Lupata was allowed by the county court of Clatsop county. The acting coroner received $19 45 and each of the men $15 40 for their time and trouble, making the total amount allowed by the county $122. Considering the toil and danger in current the money was well earned by the recipients.

STEAM POWER.—The schooner Kate and Annie, owned by Charles Lutjens, now lying at the foot of Madison street, will be beached and a boiler five feet by forty-five inches will be placed aboard. An engine, eight inch stroke, eight inch bore, will create the power. The propeller is forty-five inch, four blades, screw. The vessel has been in the trade between this point, Yaquina bay and Gray's harbor.

APPOINTED JANITOR.—In consequence of failing health, H. E. Houseland, the old gentleman who has for a number of years efficiently filled the position of janitor of the court house, tendered his resignation to the county court a few days ago. His resignation was accepted, and yesterday the court appointed John H. Orr his successor, who will enter upon the duties of the position at once.

FERRY SOLD.—The Salem Statesman says: "We understand that Mr. Hewitt has sold his ferry license to Messrs. Foster & Moore, of Portland, for $6000. These gentlemen own the steam ferry Veto, which will be placed on the route as soon as the water falls sufficient for the boat to be brought through the locks."

DANGEROUSLY ILL.—A letter was received here yesterday from Prairie City, Grant county, under date of 1st inst., stating that Mrs. Eyde, mother of Mrs. J. W. Whalley and Mr. Chas. Hyde of this city, was lying at the point of death with typhoid-pneumonia. Later information could not be obtained.

HELD TO ANSWER.—Thomas Arnold, Michael King and T. Savelove, the "hoochino" distillers, have had a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Lamson and held to answer the charge. These defendants will be tried in the United States circuit court.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.—A telegram to THE OREGONIAN from The Dalles announces that Dr. M. May was seriously injured yesterday by being struck with some falling bricks from a building which was in course of construction there.

POSTPONED.—The entertainment announced for to-night at the First Baptist church, has been postponed until next Monday evening.

FINED.—Yesterday in the United States district court Henry Ellis, for selling tobacco without a license, was fined $5.

ADMITTED.—In the U. S. district court yesterday J. Sheridan was admitted to citizenship.

AMUSEMENTS.

OWENS TO-NIGHT.—The greatest of all American comedians, John E. Owens, opens to-night at New Market Theater in "The Man from Cattaraugus." The play is entirely new to Portland play-goers, but like everything that Owens presents is excessively funny. The reserve shows that he will be greeted by a big house.

BRIEF NOTES.

Line down south.

River falling fast.

Dramatic season will open this evening.

Four funerals yesterday. Unusual for Portland.

The "State" will shift hence to-morrow morning.

South First street is fast building up with new stores.

Mr. Peter Mancier is confined to his room on account of illness.

A new foundry building has been erected at the foot of Mill street.

The steamer Oregon sailed for Portland yesterday. Owing to the line being down, no passenger list has been received.

Mr. George Starling, who visited this city some weeks ago with the Melville English Opera Company, is acting manager for Mr. John E. Owens during his engagement here.

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

It takes three days now to get a telegram from Fort Lapwai to Vancouver barracks. Winter still holds in the mountains.

Lieut. S. R. Jones of the 4th artillery, who was at headquarters last week, departed for his station at Fort Canby on Friday.

Extensive sheds for sheltering the stock are in course of construction at Boise barracks. This is an improvement long needed.

A little monthly paper to be called the Coeur d'Alene Spectator, will be published at Fort Coeur d'Alene, I. T., by the officers there stationed. It will first appear in March.

Capt. Geo. W. Chilson, 8th cavalry, who was a 1st lieutenant in the 21st infantry in 1869, on January 18, in a fit of insanity shot himself in the head, and died at Fort Duncan, Texas.

Col. W. R. Parnell, 1st cavalry, who went to Boise barracks overland from San Francisco, was shut up in the mountains by snow storms and finally had to back out of the Winnemucca route and go in by the route from Kelton. He had a hard trip.

Company M, 4th artillery, in command of Capt. C. B. Throckmorton, at Fort Stevens, has been ordered to change stations with Company H, 21st infantry, Lieut. F. E. Eltonhead, commanding, at Fort Canby. The transfer commenced on Tuesday, and is about completed at this time.

New York papers announce that on January 24, the name of Maj. C. G. Sawtelle, brevet brigadier general and quarter master general of the department of the Columbia, was sent to the U. S. senate as deputy quartermaster general with promotion to the rank of lieutenant colonel. Gen. Sawtelle receives smilingly the congratulations of his many friends.

IMPROVEMENTS AT YAQUINA AND COQUILLE.

Col. G. L. Gillespie, U. S. engineer in charge of this department, has received authority to proceed with the improvement of Yaquina bay and the mouth of the Coquille river. In anticipation of this authorization Mr. J. S. Polhemus, engineer in charge, was ordered to Yaquina three weeks ago to make preparations for the work. He is now there, receiving estimates for cribs, scows, rock, timber, and other materials needed in the improvement. The plan adopted is the construction of a jetty at the south side of the entrance to force the current through the center channel, which has more certain depth than any other. The iron, cordage, etc., required for the work is being purchased here and will be shipped to Yaquina by the steam schooner Kate and Annie within two weeks.

Capt. Mitchell, superintendent of the Coos bay improvement, will have charge of the work at the Coquille, which will be the construction of a jetty inside the mouth of the river, near the old Parker pier, which will give an entrance free from rocks. Referring to this port, the Coast Mail of recent date says: "Very favorable reports have been received from the Coquille river with regard to the condition of the entrance to that port. It is represented that they have twelve feet of water on the bar, and the channel has been so changed by the late high water that it is thought it will not shoal up again soon."

THE COURTS.

STATE CIRCUIT COURT—STOTT, J.

THURSDAY, Feb. 10, 1881.

State of Oregon vs. James Rawlins; verdict of murder in the second degree; Monday fixed for passing sentence.

State of Oregon vs. E. A. Jones; time enlarged until to-morrow morning for sentence.

COUNTY COURT—RICE, J.

In the matter of the application of Neustadter Bros. for correction of their assessment; hearing set for 10 o'clock on Monday, Feb. 14th.

In the matter of the road to connect the Vance road with the Powell's valley road—Edward Lang, Newton Gilliam, H. G. Cusnack, appointed viewers, J. A. McQuinn surveyor, to meet at the house of Gustaf Peterson on Wednesday, Feb. 23d.

Report of Frederick Emily, supervisor of road district No. 8, approved and ordered that warrant issue for $104 for amount due in settlement.

NAVIGATION RESUMED.

After weeks of tedious and vexatious detentions, the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company is gratified to announce that through connections are now effected as far as Lewiston, and all intermediate points. Regular trips are being made by the John Gates and Annie Faxon between Celilo and Lewiston. Passengers are now able to reach Walla Walla and other points along the railroad. There are some slight unavoidable delays caused by making transfers, but passengers get through all right. The O. R. & N. Co. officially announce that freight will be received for shipment to points on Snake river as far as Lewiston. The company will sell tickets for Snake river points only as far as The Dalles for the present.

PROPOSED STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

City Surveyor Chapman and his assistants are making a survey for the extension of D street from Eighteenth street to the western boundary of the city. The extension will be nearly 2000 feet long. As proposed, it will cut off two of the six blocks surrounding Bishop Scott grammar school, and the friends of that institution of learning protest against the improvement. A majority of other property owners on the route favor the measure and it is likely that the council will adopt it.

A survey is also being made of East Park street from South to Jackson streets at the base of Robinson's hill; and of E street from Fourteenth to the western boundary line.

PERSONAL.

Hon. Frank Taylor, of Astoria, is in the city.

Judge R. P. Boise, of Salem, is at the St. Charles Hotel.

Hon. T. W. Davenport, of Silverton, was in the city yesterday.

During the absence of the editor of the Astorian Mr. E. C. Holden has editorial charge of that paper. In long service as special correspondent of THE OREGONIAN at Astoria, and occasional work on the Astorian, Mr. H. has displayed fine judgment and ability.

Delegate Trevett, prefacing it with a neat complimentary speech, offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this board are due and are hereby tendered to the officers for the able, efficient and impartial manner in which they have performed their duties for the past year.

On motion of Delegate Witherell the board voted $20 to Secretary O'Connor for extra services rendered in preparing laws of the department and making an additional list of members.

Adjourned.

The New Board.

Was called to order by Joseph Simon, who appointed a committee on credentials, consisting of Delegates Sears, Sanborn and Huntington. They reported the following gentlemen entitled to seats as delegates:

Additional Particulars Concerning the Abandonment of this Craft.

The Astorian contains the following additional particulars in regard to the recent disaster which befel the schooner Emily Stephens:

Extract from the log book of the vessel:

Tuesday, Feb. 8, 1 A. M.—Wind SW., 8 A. M. wind W. fresh. At daylight made all sail and steered for the north channel. Eight A. M. got to the bar and found it breaking clean across. Packed sail and stood for the south channel, and remained within half a mile of number four buoy on the end of Clatsop spit, when it fell dead calm and the vessel commenced drifting over to the middle sands. Let go the big anchor, she ran out thirty fathoms of chain, when it parted. Let go the other anchor, and lost it also. The vessel then drifted stern first into the breakers on the middle sands, she struck a heavy breaker and smashed our steering gear up, stove in cabin door and filled the cabin. Having had a signal of distress flying ever since we lost the first anchor, and no assistance coming, as we could do no more for the vessel we launched the boat, being the only means left of saving our lives. After being in the boat an hour and a half and making no headway, and the vessel drifting away from us all the time, the tug Columbia came out and rescued us about 3 P. M. She then went down on the south channel and found the vessel aground clean over the middle sands with but little damage. The tug's crew put a hawser and pilot on board, took the vessel in tow and arrived in Astoria with her at 7 P. M., when Capt. Flavel took charge of her.

After picking up the men the tug Columbia went for the schooner, which had drifted over on to Clatsop, on board of which was Capt. Eric Johnson and Indian pilot Pilot Hewitt and two men, after which a hawser was passed aboard and the schooner towed in to Flavel's dock where she now lies.

The Emily Stephens left Eureka, Humboldt bay, with a cargo of 85,000 feet of redwood lumber consigned to Nicolai Bros. and John Ewry of Portland on the 27th of last month, and experienced rough passage to the mouth of the river. At the time the crew abandoned her heavy seas were breaking over her, but fortunately she came out with no little damage to either vessel or cargo.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following special report of the real estate market is furnished the ONEGONIAN by Olmsted & Upton, real estate agents and architects:

The business of the week, as shown by the records, is a very great improvement upon that of last week. The total reaches $51,165 49, with a total of 40 deeds, distributed as follows: City property, 11 deeds, amounting to $32,490. East Portland follows with a good showing of 10 deeds and total of $9667. Couch's Add tion, 7 deeds, amount $ 946 98 country and suburban, 9 deeds, amount $ 48 45 We have frequently heard it stated during the week that the real estate market was very dull, but neither our own observation nor the records seem to justify the statement, though the broker character of the weather might well have made it true.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

[Advocate and Sentinel.]

Rev. Father Verhaag, formerly pastor of St. Francis church, East Portland, and recently stationed at Boise City, has been transferred to Idaho City.

We regret to learn that Mr. Peter Royal, mother of Mrs. John Flinn, was stricken with paralysis one day last week one side of her body being rendered helpless. We have not heard anything further since the sad affliction took place.

The quarterly meeting for Powell's valley circuit was held last month at Fairview. An annoying debt of about two hundred and fifty dollars had been hanging over the parsonage of the church of this circuit for several years and up to the time of this meeting two hundred dollars had been pledged towards its payment, conditioned on the whole amount being raised. At the close of the morning service the balance was promptly subscribed with the best of feeling.

Through a misarrangement of some important correspondence, and distribution on the overland railroad, the new pipe organ for Taylor street church will not be shipped from San Francisco before the latter part of the month. The financial outlook for payment are large, provided it, but no solicitude as The Young Ladies' Social Union are preparing for a social entertainment to take place at the church next Wednesday evening, the proceeds to be applied to the organ fund.

Rev. J. H. Wilbur writes us from New York, under date of January 22d, that himself and wife were detained in that city by the congruous liners of the latter. He says: "We have feared greatly fared, for the last week and she would not recover. She appears to-day to be better, and we are encouraged to hope the disease has given back, and that from this time she may steadily recover." We hope for the best and trust to see them both soon at the Oregon to which they have given so much of service and love.

TWO LOVERS.

Two lovers by a moss-grown spring;
They leaned soft cheeks together there,
Mingled the dark and sunny hair,
And heard the wooing thrushes sing,
O budding time!
O love's best prime!

Two wedded from the portal stept;
The bells made happy carolings,
The air was soft as fanning wings,
While petals on the pathway swept;
O pure-eyed bride!
O tender bride!

Two faces o'er a cradle bent;
Two hands above the head were locked;
Those pressed each other while they rocked;
Those watched a life that love and sent.
O solemn hour!
O hidden power!

Two parents by the evening fire;
The red light fell about their knees;
On heads that rose by slow degrees
Like buds upon the lily spire.
O patient life!
O tender strife!

The two still sat together there;
The red light shone about their knees,
But all the heads by slow degrees
Had gone and left the lonely pair.
O voyage fast!
O vanished past!

The red light shone about the floor
And made the space between them wider;
They drew their chairs the side by side,
Their pale cheeks joined, and said "Once more!"
O memories!
O past that is!

—George Eliot.

People I would like to Endow.

[Martin Kellogg in California for February.]

As soon as I have fifty thousand dollars to spare, I mean to have a good time in giving it away. And when I give, it will be to people I know, rather than to institutions. Institutions must be built up, and happy are they who can build them. It would be pleasant to help, on a small scale, to give a little to some worthy academy, or to some promising college or university. But the magnitude of these enterprises is discouraging. Public education on an adequate scale calls for very large outlays. The millionaires should look after the great institutions, and the institutions should "go for" the millionaires. My choice of objects will be humbler, and will not perpetuate my name; but it will have the advantage of a fresher personality, and there will be a perpetuity of good influences through happy hearts and useful lives. That, I fancy, is the best sort of immortality; and I think the little oasis I may chance to bless will be much greener than the wider areas of an equally limited and impersonal benefaction. Think how little way fifty thousand dollars can go in endowing any of our really great institutions. I propose, instead, to endow a few individuals. And though I am not yet in sight of any fifty thousand dollars, I like the pleasure of anticipating and planning, and am already making up a list of recipients.

* * * *

I need not stay to count up the sums already bespoken. I can see at a glance that the fifty thousand dollars is far spent. There are seven cases, and how easily they might be multiplied to seventy times seven. Take the very first. Not one poor student alone, but scores of them almost equally claim consideration. Not young men only, but resolute, aspiring, promising young women as well, are tantalized with the half-tasted cup of knowledge. For one hard-working, ill paid principal of a country school there are a half a dozen hard-working, ill paid lady teachers, in the country and city, too. The utterly conscientious poor minister is not seldom paralyzed by zeal; but poor practitioners of law and medicine—men who are not supple enough or unscrupulous enough to push their way, unbefriended, to remunerative places in the professional ranks. The music teacher has many sisters in poverty struggling to support themselves and others dependent on them. The inebriate's widow is found in all stages of effort and despondency. Fell disease, cruel accident, murderous hands, the country's battlefield, may have been the instruments to strike husband and her little ones helpless. The three sisters may not be three, but they stand for a long rank of dependent women with whom the battle of life goes hard. And as for orphans, one need only go to our city asylums and look for himself, and then reflect how few come to a good home as that.

I have not hinted at several other friends who would go on a supplementary list for a second fifty thousand. Here is a young philologist, who might become a Max Muller, or a Whitney, if he could only give himself to his favorite study. Here is a promising devotee of science. I wonder that the fashionable patrons of science have not yet found him out. Here is an inventor—not in the way of speculators of gas stocks. He has a full head of bright ideas, and if he could spend time to work them out, and had a little money to pay for first steps, he might prove one of the best friends of the people. The poets, the literary aspirants, and the philosophers I should leave to those who are better judges. Certainly, I should not care to help a self-centered, cavilling idler, or an egotistical student of thought who sets up his own mushroom conceptions as a test for all great thinkers. But there is no need of saying whom I would not endow.

Let me return to my small list. Dear friends, I am afraid my good wishes are all I can give you. If I live long enough to bestow anything more substantial, it seems to me that I shall begin with the first and last numbers, the young student and the orphan child—perhaps with the last first. I have printed my list as at least suggestive to those who can now begin to give, and I heartily hope they will sweep these friends off my list. Some rich men and rich women have fifty thousand dollars to spare; how many cases they might make in the homes and hearts of the less fortunate.

A Lazy Man's Invention.

[From the New York Sun.]

A man living near Bloomfield, N. J., has contrived an arrangement by the use of which he is enabled to get an hour or more extra sleep in the morning, and in other ways he finds of great benefit. In many ways it takes the place of a domestic servant. The gentleman has thought out and put into practical working an idea that occurred to him about a year ago. He is awakened in the morning by a shrill whistle. He at once gets out of bed, for he knows what that whistle means. It is to him that all is ready for him to get breakfast. He dresses and goes into the kitchen, and there he finds a bright, fresh fire, a tea-kettle full of boiling water and other conveniences for preparing his morning meal. All this is accomplished by means of an alarm clock with weights, a piece of wire, a sheet of sand paper and some matches. Paper, wood and coal are put into the grate of his cooking-stove, and a tea-kettle filled with water, and having a tiny whistle fitted into the nozzle of the kettle, is placed on the stove. By setting the alarm in the clock, he can have a fire at any time he wishes. When the alarm in the clock goes off, a weight falls and hits the wire. The wire moves and scrapes the matches fastened to it on the sand paper, the matches light the paper in the stove, and the paper fires the wood and coal, and soon a fresh is under way. In a little while the water in the tea-kettle boils and then the tiny whistle gives the note of warning that everything is ready and it is time to get up.

"Simple thing, and yet what a comfort it is," the inventor says. "There is no getting up for me now an hour before breakfast, losing that amount of sleep, and then waiting around for breakfast. The arrangement costs next to nothing, and it is an trustworthy as anything in the world. I have not had it patented yet. Some persons advise me to, and perhaps I may. I haven't any for sale; got it up entirely for my own comfort and convenience, and it has more than paid me already. But just think, if it were in general use it would save many hard words and do away with considerable domestic unhappiness among poor people. Doubtless it might have a tendency to make a better feeling between some men and their wives, by settling the vexed question as to who should get up in the morning and build the fire. Out of this question alone many divorce suits grow, and this arrangement would prevent them."

Gen. Hancock has been elected president of the National Rifle Association.

WRINKLED FACES.

It is a painful sight to see young ladies in their teens with wrinkled and premature old faces; nevertheless it is quite common, and to any one who observes the tendency of the times the reason is very apparent. Owing to flaming advertisements and bogus certificates, in which are used the names of eminent physicians and chemists, the unsuspecting and credulous have been induced to use some of these so-called liquid beautifiers, all of which are known to be positively injurious and if used for any length of time will destroy the complexion, so that it will be next to impossible to restore it. Mothers should be very careful to see that their daughters do not use these preparations but ask for and obtain Slaven's Harmless Yosemite Face Powder, it only harmless beautifier. For sale by Woodard, Clark & Co., Portland, Oregon.

THURSDAY EVENING, Feb. 10.

Again we must repeat the discouraging story of a stagnant wheat market. We learn of a few sales during the week at $1 25 per cental, which may be said to be the present basis of the market. The general situation is unchanged both as regard stocks on hand and shipping. There is no pressure to sell on the part of holders, no desire to buy on the part of shippers. Still, there is not a disengaged ship in the river, nor are there any immediate prospects for a supply of tonnage. Charter rates are advancing at San Francisco, and even if Portland wanted ships at the necessary advance, they could not be secured. The wheat market at San Francisco, it will be seen by our quotations in our telegraphic reports, is established at about the rates ruling here, so that there is no profit in sending grain there by steamer as has been done in former years. Eastern and European markets are fully reported in our dispatches.

Home Produce Market.

Stocks of oats on hand are large and sales are slow in consequence. All mills have on hand large stocks of flour which is dull in sympathy with wheat. Feed of every sort dull and lower. Receipts of butter are light and the price has advanced. Cheese is scarce and the price is coming up. Eggs have advanced, owing to interruption of railroad traffic. Chickens are plenty and sales are slow. Choice green apples are in demand, and sell at high rates; quotations; spuckel apples will not bring the top of the market. Oranges are cheaper. Dried fruits drag along without any activity whatever. Provisions are steady at quotations. Potatoes, that is choice Garnet Chilies, are in good demand at full prices. Beans are firm. Seeds are in better request. Hops are steady but are not higher. Hides are firm. Grain sacks are plenty and cheaper.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in prices. Quotations are for round lots $4 50 for standard; $4@4 10 for good country brands.

OATS—Market quiet but steady; offerings are large, quote $1 25@1 30 per cental; feed, $1 10@1 20.

WOOL—There is a steady demand. Valley, 22@27c; Eastern Oregon 20@23c.

HAY—The supply is larger and demand less. Baled timothy, $16@18 per ton.

MILL FEED—The demand is quiet and the supply more liberal. Quotations: Middlings $20@22½; shorts $18; chop feed $18@20; bran $14@15.

CURED MEATS—Market steady; Quotations—Hams, Oregon sugar cured, 14@15c; eastern, 14@16; bacon, 12½@14c; shoulders 9@10c.

LARD—Market steady at 12@13c in kegs; 12½@13 in tins, and 13½@14½c in pails.

DRIED APPLES—Stocks are still accumulating and holders do not feel disposed to quote prices that will move the surplus. Sun dried, 7@8c; Rummer dried, 9@10c.

DRIED PLUMS—Dull; with pits, 6c; pitless, 11@2½c for sun dried; 13@15c for machine plums.

HIDES—The market is firm at 16c for first-class dry; 7½@8½c for green; culls, 5@7. Sheep pelts—Prices vary according to the quantity of wool on skin; quote from 25c@$1.

BUTTER—Supply light; fancy, 40c; good to choice, 30@35c; fair, 25c; other grades what they will bring. In bulk, 30@35c; in print, 32½@37½c.

ONIONS—Weak at 1½@2c ₱ lb.

EGGS—Receipts during the past week were light, and prices have jumped to 20c.

CHEESE—Oregon, ₱ lb, 15@16c; stocks are light.

APPLES—The market is overstocked with inferior grades of fall apples, which are sold at almost any figure. Send nothing but choice and well packed to this market if you want any remuneration for your trouble. Per box, 40@75c.

TIMOTHY SEED—Per lb, 6@7c.

TURKEYS—Per lb, live weight, 14@15c; nominal.

CHICKENS—Small to medium ₱ doz $2 50@3; large $2 50@3 50. Receipts have dropped off and prices have advanced.

DUCKS—Per doz, $5@6.

GEESE—Per doz, $8@9.

SALMON—Columbia river, ₱ bbl, $8@8 50; ½ bbl, $4 25@4 50; bellies, ½ bbl, $8@9.

HOPS—Oregon, ₱ lb, 14@15c.

POTATOES—70@80c ₱ ctl.

TALLOW—3 lb, 5@5½c.

SHINGLES—Per M. $2 25@3 50.

PEARS—Choice varieties, 50@75c ₱ box.

Meat.

BEEF—On foot 2½@3c per lb; dressed, 2½@5c per lb.

PORK—6@6½ c, gross.

MUTTON—2½@3c, gross.

Gold and Stock Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.

Receipts—13,500 ctls wheat, 13,500 qr sks flour, 750 ctls oats, 550 sks potatoes, 17,500 doz eggs.

Wheat—There has been an increase inquiry, together with larger sales. Exporters bid $1 35 for ex choice shipping, $1 37½@1 40 asked. Good shipping sold to-day at $1 37½@1 39; choice milling, $1 43 asked. We quote choice to extra choice shipping at $1 32½@1 35; choice to extra choice milling, $1 37½ @1 40.

Barley—The market shows no feature of striking interest.

Oats—The market is more firm for choice feed at $1 37½@1 40; common we quote as before.

Potatoes—The market is steady at a decline.

Apples—The market is very firm with but small demand; Baldwin, 70c@$1 25; Spitzenberg, $1@1 50.

Hides—Market is steady, no decline. We quote as before.

Salmon—Columbia river: A sale is reported of 12,000 cases, afloat here for Liverpool, at an equivalent of $1 92½ on river.

Eggs—Prices are not materially changed, yet a slight tendency in buyers' favor is noted. Choice fresh California, 20@22c; eastern, 17@18c. Receipts ex Columbia a small.

Butter—The market is steady at a decline; quotable at 35½@37½c.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Flour—Quiet.
Wool—Quiet.

MARK LANE REPORT.

The Regular Weekly Review of the English Breadstuffs Market—A Dull Week, and a Declining Market.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The Mark Lane Express says: Despite the paucity of supplies, the trade in breadstuffs has been weakening the whole week. Quotable rates were obtainable Monday, while Friday very limited business was done at the reduction of a shilling. Provincial markets experienced the same fall earlier in the week. It is noticeable, therefore, as the evident conviction of millers that prices will fall. In London flour has been in free supply. The small deliveries of the present season proves that the supply of marketable grain has been over-estimated. Foreign flour receives very little attention. Red wheats have declined one shilling since Monday. Finer descriptions of white have retained their value, but trade is very slow. The off coast market is well supplied. Sales are few and in favor of buyers. Speculative trade has been depressed. Wheat is cheaper in all positions, large prospective supplies preventing advance. The week's supplies were chiefly from America, Australia and India.

Barley is slow with dragging trade. Good samples are scarce and unchanged. Foreign barley is dull and weaker for very best grades.

Oats are in small supply at rates steadier and quiet. Foreign oats are similar, while all the better demand on Friday.

Maize has declined, market closing weaker for all descriptions and positions.

The English wheat trade, during the week ending Jan. 29th, were 30,559 quarters at 42s 7d, against 37,316 quarters at 44s 2d, for corresponding week last year. In Scotland it is reported the United Kingdom for the week ending Jan. 29th, were 450,477 cwt wheat and 214,630 cwt flour.
